GUIDE TO FREEDOM OF INFORMATION

It is easy to apply to the Council for information. These are the steps you need to take:

Before lodging your request, it is recommended you contact Council's Freedom of Information (FOI) Officer and discuss your request. Some information is available 'as of right' and can be supplied without the need for an FOI request.

FOI applications must be made in writing. Your application should state very clearly the specific information that you are requesting.

Please be aware that it may take some time to locate the documents requested, as what you are asking for may not be readily available. Council will contact you when the documents are available.

If you need any assistance please contact the FOI Officer who will be able to help you.

After completing the form or letter send it, together with the application fee to the Freedom of Information Officer, PO Box 185, Castlemaine, Victoria, 3450.

What documents should I ask for?

When requesting documents, make your Freedom of Information (FOI) application as specific or detailed as possible. If you seek a particular document, state this in the form. This will help us search for the document and respond promptly to your request.

For example, if you seek a photocopy of a specific report, try to tell us the date of the report, the title or subject of the report, the specific address or street the report relates to, or the time period it relates to.

Some of the material you are asking for may require considerable research, or may be held at a location other than the Civic Centre. This is why it is necessary that you are very specific as staff need to know what you are asking for to ensure they assemble it all. For example, if you ask for A and B and this is found, then you realise you meant to ask for C and D, it will be necessary to start with a new application. Careful consideration needs to be given at the start to ensure that the application you are lodging covers everything that you require.

What documents are available?

- The FOI Act gives you:
- The right to access documents about your personal affairs and the activities of government agencies; and
- The right to request that incorrect or misleading information held by an agency about you be amended or removed.
- It is not only documents in paper form that are accessible. The word 'documents' covers a broad range of media including maps, films, microfiche, photographs, computer printouts, emails, computer discs, tape recordings and videotapes.
- Not all information is automatically available.
- There are several important restrictions on the types of documents available under FOI. For example, documents which may not be available include:
- Exempt documents' such as internal working documents, law enforcement documents, documents relating to legal proceedings, or documents affecting the personal privacy of other people;
- Documents which are already publicly available or available by paying a fee under another Act; and

- Documents which were created before 1 January 1989.
- This should not deter you from asking for access as each document is assessed on its merits before a decision is made.

Unless required by law, letters of complaint are not released. For example, a letter from a resident complaining about a neighbour's dog would not be released.

In some cases you may be refused access to an entire document. Alternatively, you may be given access to a document with exempt information deleted.

How long does it take?

The FOI Act gives Council up to 30 days to provide access to the documents you request, or tell you why we will not provide access.

How much does it cost?

The application fee must be enclosed with your request form. The fee is reviewed annually by the State Government. If the fee is not received with the application, the FOI officer will contact you for payment and the 45 day period will not commence until both the money and application are received.

There is a provision in the Act for waiver of the fee on the grounds of financial hardship. Should this apply, sighting of a Commonwealth Pension or Commonwealth Health card would be necessary.

The Act also provides that Council may charge an hourly rate for 'search time' taken to locate the documents, as some requests involve a considerable amount of material, particularly where some of the documents go back to 1989 as these are not held within the office and must be retrieved from off-site storage. If it is estimated that the search time will exceed $50, you will be contacted and a deposit may be required.

Photocopying of documents costs 20c per black and white A4 page, $1.00 per black and white A3 page. Other documents (such as large maps, photographs etc.) will be charged at cost. Copies of plans may not be able to be provided due to copyright restrictions.

Inspection time is charged at $5 per quarter hour or part thereof. Applicants may inspect original documents under supervision of Council staff. These charges are another reason why applicants should think clearly before filling out the form to specify just what they are asking for, particularly with regard to timeframe. This prevents charges being incurred for search time and photocopying of documents, particularly old documents, which may not be of interest, but because of the wording of the request have been located, copied and charged for.
